

BRIAN SCAVULLO

BIO

Born in Albany, NY, Brian Scavullo is a singer-songwriter blending heartfelt pop with cinematic synthwave vibes.

After performing across the U.S., Spain and Italy over the past several years, he's now launching a fresh chapter with a new album produced in Italy with Mat Den (Grammy Academy member), whose credits include Amy Winehouse, Kristian Marr, Ed Graham (The Darkness), Ian Stanley (Tears for Fears), and more. The project marks a shift from his classic songwriter roots to a more atmospheric sound, thanks to a mix of electronic instruments and modern production.

Brian's upcoming performances will kick off in Italy, England, with a stop in London (The Bedford), and even Spain.

LIVE

Brian's live performance centers on two guitars and lead vocals, creating an immersive atmosphere from the very first moment. This setup adapts naturally to both intimate rooms and larger stages, and works especially well in spaces where comfort, mood, and connection matter. Whether audiences are listening closely or simply enjoying the ambiance, the music is designed to meet them where they are. With a broad repertoire, his sets can run up to two hours of continuous music, allowing for a flexible and engaging live experience tailored to your space and audience.
